The Impact of Private Support

CARE, the Florida State University Center for Academic Retention and Enhancement, provides preparation, orientation and academic support programming for students who are among the first in their families to attend college and may face unique challenges due to educational or economic circumstances. CARE provides assistance in all areas of a student’s education, from books to housing and meal plans.

The CARE Tutorial Lab recently underwent renovations to increase available space. Additionally, computer upgrades, including the purchase of 18 new computers, will enhance academic support for CARE participants.

The Honors Program provides an enriched curriculum and special opportunities for exceptional, high-achieving students. Honors students enjoy the opportunity to have:

- Smaller sections of regular courses and special honors seminars;
- More access to faculty, specialized advisors and early registration;
- Increased social interaction with peers through the Honors Council and Honors Delegates;
- A “head start” on medical and law school through the Honors Medical Scholars Program and Honors Legal Scholars Program;
- Study abroad grants; and
- Honors-only residence halls.

For More Information

KATHERINE CLINE
Director of Development
kcline@foundation.fsu.edu
(850) 645-9357
The Office of National Fellowships seeks to benefit the development of student excellence, both academically and interpersonally, by providing information and support to students throughout the fellowship application process through one-on-one mentoring and direct assistance.

Phi Eta Sigma is the national honor society at FSU. The Phi Eta Sigma Peer Advising Program makes free tutoring services available to all enrolled students.

Advising First strategically places professional academic advisors and success coaches with students within academic units.

The Advising First facility and the Tutoring Center in the renovated William Johnston Building opened in 2013. This new space provides an integrated learning center where students can go for academic advising, academic success coaching, tutoring and group study.